Janie Nelson Steinhagen & Mark Steinhagen Global Fellows

The Janie Nelson Steinhagen and Mark Steinhagen Global Fellows were established due to the generosity of Janie and Mark Steinhagen to foster study abroad among graduate students and five-year BBA/MBA or BBA/MSA students in the College of Business.

The Janie Nelson Steinhagen and Mark Steinhagen Global Fellows will be awarded on a competitive basis to outstanding scholars who complete an application and essay describing how being a global fellow will enhance their educational experience and help them achieve their career goals. The selected fellows will be required to present a panel discussion (upon their return from study abroad) of the experience to other College of Business students, faculty, and Janie and Mark Steinhagen. This discussion will provide an opportunity for the fellows to share what they learned and how this experience has impacted their views and perspectives while broadening the scope of the impact of global studies to a wider audience.

CRITERIA
Graduate Student or five-year BBA/MBA or BBA/MSA student in the College of Business

- GPA: 3.5 cumulative GPA
- Applicants’ essays and applications will be reviewed and selections will be made based upon:
  1. academic achievement
  2. leadership skills and experience
  3. clearly defined career goals
  4. sense of social responsibility and business ethics.
- Essay (750 words but not to exceed 1000 words) – Topic of how study abroad would enhance the students graduate experience at Lamar University.
- Resume
- Interview

The selected Global Fellows (4) will receive a $2,400 scholarship applied towards the China Trip installments during the Spring semester. Recipients must also apply for the study abroad program. Study Abroad may provide additional money. Students must be enrolled in the summer session of BUSI 5380, Global Enrichment.

Applications are due by December 5.